Garrard County Teachers Institute in Session at Court House. Among the notes of the Institute we find this: "Mac" Elliott has the air of, and conducts himself like an old patriarch. He sits in the rear of the bar, keeps his mouth closed and looks wise, wholly absorbed in the male-like down upon his upper lip. Whenever he dares to talk he is greeted with rounds of applause from the fair ladies."

Homer Batson and Owen Shugars rode to Hustonville on their wheels. The Len Hudson farm at Camp Dick Robinson is advertised for sale. "Mit" Elliott consumes most of his time in making eyes at, and flirting with the pretty young teachers. He thinks the West Point school needs an assistant and is firing his wily darts at the heart of every pretty face he meets.

Miss Carrie Currey has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. F. D. Gaines, in Danville.

Messrs. John Farra, John Lear, George Palmer and Charley Walker, took in the Nicholasville bicycle races last Friday and Saturday.

Mr. Vernon Richardson, the court-ness man in Kentucky, has been here several days visiting friends.

Misses Chastine McGregor, Ellen Owsley, Altie Marksberry, Nellie Marrs and some ten or twelve young men of this city, attended the entertainment given at West Point Tuesday evening by Col. Jim West, who was celebrating his fiftieth anniversary.

Farmers say the corn crop this season will be the finest ever raised in the county.

Mrs. Mollie Young has purchased of Mrs. J. I. Hamilton, her fine combined black mare, for $150 cash.

Yates Hudson sold 450 bushels of Irish potatoes to George Cogar for 40 cents a bushel.

Doesn't This Show Lack of Home Interest?

The average Springfield citizen gets up at the alarm of a Connecticut clock, buttons his Chicago suspenders to Detroit overalls, puts on a pair of shoes made in Ohio, washes in a Louisville basin, uses Cincinnati soap, and dries on a cotton towel made in New Hampshire; sits down at an Evansville table, eats bread made in Lebanon with Minneapolis flour, Kansas City grits made from Illinois corn and fried in Omaha lard on a South Bend stove. After breakfast he dolls up in a shirt and collar laundered in Danville or Louisville, puts on a Philadelphia hat, lights up a Louisville cigar, marches down town and orders Irish potatoes grown in Michigan, canned tomatoes and corn canned in Indiana and sits down in an office chair made in Grand Rapids, uses a Syracuse typewriter, and boasts his foreign stock to his local people.

At night the same man goes to his home built of Florida lumber, crawls under a New Jersey blanket and is kept awake by a Springfield dog—the only home product found on his premises.

Isn't it about time Springfield had a few, at least, of the needed industries that we might support and enjoy? Food for thought.—Springfield Sun.

Farm Bureau Drive

Hon. Geoffrey Morgan, secretary of the State Federation of Farm Bureau, is in Garrard county this week conducting a drive for this organization and meeting with exceptional success.

Meetings are being held each day and in the evenings at various sections of the county. His talk to the merchants of the town last Monday afternoon was well attended and his work in the county is favored by the merchants generally. Mr. Morgan is an entertaining and gifted speaker and has made many warm friends in this community.

Simpson

The remains of Bernard Simpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Simpson, were brought from Lexington last Monday and buried in the Gunns Chapel cemetery last Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Simpson was 18 years of age and died of peritonitis in a Lexington hospital.

Warrants in Big Whiskey Robbery

Lawrenceburg, Ky. —Deputies from the office of Prohibition Director Sam Collins at Lexington, served warrants on Wallace B. Camp, J. C. Milton, and Loyd Simpson, of this city, charging them with conspiracy to violate the prohibition law. Camp was the store-keeper-gauger at the Dedman distillery at the time the $280,000 theft of whiskey was said to have been made, and was in charge of the keys to the bonded warehouse where the liquor was stored. Milton and Simpson were guards. Prohibition Agent Jerome Tarter, who checked up the distillery, found that out of 325 barrels stored in the warehouse, thirty-three were empty; one was full and the remainder contained from five to ten gallons each. Warrants have been issued for two other parties whose names cannot be learned, but who are said to be Ohioans. Meyer Bros., of Cincinnati, are the alleged owners of the whiskey. The men arrested were released on bonds of $5,000 each. All claim they will have no trouble proving their innocence of the charges.

What Others Say of Our Farm Bureau Edition

The Lancaster Record printed this week a thirty-two page edition of its paper for the Farm Bureau of Garrard county. The paper was full of splendid reading matter pertaining to the farm and farmer. The editors are to be congratulated upon getting out such a wonderful, wholesome edition. It was quite a job for a country paper to turn out thirty-two pages, but the Record seems to have accomplished it with apparent ease.—Danville Advocate.

The Central Record, of Lancaster, turned out a four section, 32 page Farm Bureau edition last week. The Record was splendidly arranged, well illustrated and contained much valuable information as well as the usual amount of Garrard county news, prepared in excellent fashion. The merchants and business people of the county advertised generously and made it possible for Editor Bob Elkin to turn out the booster number. Editor Elkin and his staff are to be congratulated upon the success of their efforts.—Danville Messenger.

Fast Drivers

Take Warning

The City Council has instructed Chief Bratton to arrest all automobile drivers who are continually exceeding the speed laws of the city, regardless of the ordinances and regardless of the repeated warnings that Chief Bratton has given them. He informs us that some arrest are sure to be made the next time such violations are made and then they will have to tell their troubles to Judge Kinnaird.

Down Goes Gasoline

Quite a little comment has been going the rounds of the community during the past few weeks, caused by the price of gasoline on our local markets being two cents higher than Danville and Lexington. We are glad to announce that Conn and Conn, our local garage firm, are advertising in this issue, Gasoline at 26 cents a gallon and are asking the patronage of their friends, they being the first to meet the foreign prices. Read their advertisement on page four.

Quiet Primary

There was practically no interest manifested in the Republican primary held here last Saturday, and as a result only 270 votes were cast in the county. Hubbard's majority over Kincaid being 202 votes. Hubbard receiving 236; while Kincaid received 34. Kincaid is nominated by a good majority of the votes cast in the district, carrying every county in the district except Garrard. The honor is an empty one, yet it cost the district about $5,000 to hold the election.

Farmers Meeting

Every farmer in Garrard county should attend the farmers meeting at the court house next Saturday afternoon. It will be devoted exclusively to the interest of the farmers of Garrard and all should make an effort to attend and bring his neighbor.

Fine Hog

The Beechwood Farms have just received a handsome Hampshire boar pig from Cantril, Iowa, where one of the largest farms breeding this breed of hogs in the United States is located.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ACHIEVEMENTS DURING FIRST YEAR OF ORGANIZATION

Secretary Abbott Gives Interesting Report of Years Work Ending July 1st., 1922.

One of the easiest things to do is to make a mistake. The next easiest thing is to offer criticisms concerning the other fellow's mistakes. Correctly mistakes are a little harder. Community welfare is a science—the study of a life time, in which you may exhaust yourself, but never your subject.

It is a contest, a duel, or a melee, calling for courage, skill, strategy, and self-control.

It is a test of temper, a trial of honor, a revealer of character. It affords a chance to play the man, and act the gentleman.

It requires getting out of doors, activity, and a sweeping away of the mental cobwebs. It includes companionship with friends, social intercourse, opportunity for courtesy, kindness and generosity to an opponent. It promotes not only physical health, but moral force.

The secretary's report for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1922, does not include the many incidents brought to the surface by personal interviews, in fact secretarial ethics prohibit a review of some of these episodes.

It is regrettable that such a percentage of our residents, and men in business are more or less indifferent to the possibilities that could be accomplished through co-operation.

All towns, like all men are alike—they differ only in degree.

The town AS IT IS is what we have at hand. The town AS WE WANT IT is what we have in view. What is your definition of a C. of C.?

Paint Lick Wins From Corbin Nine

The fast Paint Lick baseball team had Corbin's nine as guests on the Paint Lick Diamond Saturday afternoon but walloped the visitors in a well played game by a score of 8 to 7. "Red" Beasley, Paint Lick's pitching ace, started the game for his team but was found for six runs in the same number of innings. He was replaced by Jim Lackey, who went right ahead and allowed the visitors only one more run while the Paint Lick boys slammed out the old pill for two more. The game was exceedingly close. At no time was either club leading by over two runs. The winning run was put over by Paint Lick in the last half of the ninth. "Simp" Rogers was hit by a pitched ball. On Jim Lackey's grounder Corbin Dooted and Rogers took second. He stole third and came home when the Corbin catcher threw wild in an effort to catch him.

The Paint Lick line up was as follows: Patrick, catcher; Beasley and Lackey, pitchers; S. Rogers, first; Roop, second; Stephenson, first; J. B. Lackey, third; Pruitt, left; Duerson, center; and C. Rogers, right. Paint Lick goes to Harrodsburg Friday for a game with the fast nine in that city.

Baptist Church News

The Junior B. Y. P. U. will hold an ice cream social next Saturday evening at the home of Squire Sanders, on Danville Street. Ice cream and cake will be served and a generally good time is expected. An invitation is extended to all to come, and buy all the cream and cake you can eat and carry away. See other announcements in this paper.

There was a fine audience of young people at the service last Sunday morning. The "Gospel Railroad" was the subject of the message given by the pastor.

At a call meeting of the church after the preaching service last Sunday it was voted to assist in the purchase of a tent to be used by the Association at their annual gatherings and at other special meetings during the year.

Next Sunday the school session will begin at 9:45—fifteen minutes earlier than usual. Please note the change in time and come for the opening song. At 10:30 there will be an important meeting of the church and Sunday school to consider plans for our future work. You cannot afford to miss this service if you are a member of the church. Some surprises are in store for you if you come, and disappointment if you fail to come.

We are praying for and expecting a great day next Sunday. We appeal to every member who really wishes to be classed as such to be present at 10:30 next Sunday morning. Come with a large faith, a broad vision and a loving heart, prepared to enlist in a program of service that will rejoice every loyal heart.

But read on! The following item clipped from a religious magazine, is startling to say the least. Is it proportionately true of us?

"Lovers of Pleasures More Than Lovers of God"

2 Tim. 3:4

The United States Commissioner of Education estimates that during the year 1920 while the world starved we expended for joy-riding, automobiles, luxurious living, tobacco, jewelry and other unnecessary luxuries, $22,700,000,000.

During the same time we gave to Missions to promote Christ's Kingdom abroad, $37,886,040, or comparatively, we expended $600 in luxuries for ourselves and $1 to evangelize the world abroad.

The above statement is hereby reprinted by courtesy of The Family Altar League, Marquette Building, Chicago, Ill. The appalling character of the situation is all the more apparent when it is remembered that much of the $37,000,000 was expended in abroad, not evangelical, but apostate doctrines.

The only remedy is such a revival of evangelical religion in the church of Christ at large as will change the morals and habits of millions, and sweeping on will evangelize the world.

When believers cease being unbelievers, God will work!

Junior Judging Contest Plans Given Good Start

Plans are well under way for the state live stock judging contest which will be held for boys and girls September 13th. in connection with the State Fair, it has been announced by C. W. Buckler, state leader of junior agricultural club work at the College of Agriculture. Approximately 38 counties are expected to send teams to the event. Twenty-three counties competed in 1921, the first year that the contest was held. Competition in the judging will be open to any county that has organized junior agricultural club work.

Agricultural agents in a number of counties already have held contests between various communities as the first step in preparing boys and girls for the state contest. Winners in the community contests will meet in a county contest, the winning team of which will have the right to represent the county at the fair. Interested persons and firms in several counties already have posted as much as $100 which will be used as prize money for the contest in their district. Each team in the state contest will be composed of three boys or girls between the ages of 12 and 18 years.

In competing at the fair, each contestant will be required to place eight rings of live stock of four animals each including two rings each of beef cattle, dairy cattle, breeding hogs and mutton sheep. Each member also will be required to give the reasons for his placings on one of the two rings of stock that he has examined in each class. Twenty-five minutes will be allowed on this ring while time on rings where no reasons are required will be limited to 15 minutes.

As was the case last year, the county having the highest scoring team will receive the Bourbon Stock Yards Trophy, valued at $50 which Boone county won in 1921 and which will become the permanent property of the team winning it two successive years. In addition $300, donated by breed associations and other persons interested in better live stock, will be distributed among the 20 highest scoring individuals. The individual prizes range from $20 to $6.

Common Sense About Eczema and Eruptions!

Here's Something About S. S. S.
That You'll Be Glad to Hear.

You might just as well know it right now—the cause of skin eruptions, pimples, blackheads, boils and so on, is right in the blood. There is no getting away from it. Science has proved it. We prove it. You can prove it.
When the cause of skin troubles and eruptions is in the blood, it isn't com-

Let S. S. S. Give You An Angelic Skin! mon sense to simply treat the skin.
A bottle of S. S. S. will prove to you what is happening in your blood. S. S. S. is a scientific blood cleanser—it drives out the impurities which cause eczema, tetter, rash, pimples, boils, blackheads, itching and other skin eruptions.
When these impurities are driven out, you can't stop several very nice things from happening. Your lips turn naturally rosy. Your eyes sparkle, your complexion clears. It becomes beautiful. Your face looks like that of a prosperous, ruddy, well-fed, refined gentleman, or if you are a woman, your complexion becomes the real kind that the whole world so admires. S. S. S. is also a powerful body-builder, because it builds new and more blood-cells. That's why it fills out sunken cheeks, bony necks, thin limbs, helps regain lost flesh. It costs little to have this happen to you. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes.
The larger size is the more economical.

Drug Store."

McLean Farmers Unite For Herd Improvement

Interested McLean county farmers who are co-operating with the extension division of the College of Agriculture are taking steps to build up dairy herds in that section of the State which eventually should make the county one of the outstanding ones in Kentucky's dairy industry, according to E. M. Prewitt, dairy extension specialist of the college.

Following the recent organization of a co-operative pure bred Jersey sire association, which was promoted by County Agent R. H. Ford and the extension division, those interested in dairy herd improvement set about to bring bred registered Jersey heifers into the county to be used as the foundation stock for high producing dairy herds.

The newly organized sire association has a total of 48 members who own three high-class Jersey sires co-operatively. The organization is divided into three blocks, each one of which has the use of one of the sires for two years after which the animals will be changed to different blocks. By this means members of the association will be able to obtain the services of a good sire over a period of six years with the added advantage of small cost.

Six farmers in the country already have signified their intentions of buying bred registered heifers in line with the new movement L. D. Leach-man will purchase two, Hugh Herndon one and Allen Taylor, G. D. Robertson, Bud Walker and C. C. Son two each. In addition Mr. Walker already has purchased a registered Jersey bull that is a grandson of the world's famous bull Fauvic's Prince.
Other farmers are expected to be enlisted in the proposed plan of herd improvement as the movement gains headway.

The use of the purebred sires owned by members of the co-operative association on the registered heifers which are to be brought into the county is expected to be a potent factor in the development of McLean county's dairying. The heifer calves that are produced will be saved with the idea of building up registered herds after which official testing of cows for butterfat production will be started.

Silos Pay Big Profits

When you make a time deposit at your bank you have in mind the interest you will collect at the end of the year. When you buy stocks and bonds you have in mind dividends.
In other words, you are thinking about the return you will get on your investment in terms of interest.

Why not think of the silo in this way? Usually when you think of a silo you think of it as a means of producing more milk and butter fat.
Why not translate this into terms of interest? Let us consider the silo as an investment and see what interest it will return.

Take a 100-ton silo as the size found on the average farm. It will require the product of ten acres of corn to fill this silo. If this corn yields 40 bushels per acre, 400 bushels of corn goes into the silo.
Now compare the feeding value of the 100-ton of silage with the value of the crop had the corn been harvested and sold and the stalks been pastured.

The present feeding value of silage is about $5 per ton; 100 tons are worth $500. Remember that this includes all the cost of putting the silage into the silo, in other words, you should be able to buy from your neighbor at this price. The value of the same feed in terms of mature corn and pastured corn stalks would be:

Shelled corn, 400 bushels at 50cts., $200.00; 10 acres of corn stalks at $4.00—$40.00. Total Feeding value $240.00.

Now we will have to figure in the cost of husking and cribbing the corn; conservatively, this is 5 cents per bushel or $20.00 for the crop which must be charged up against the feeding value, leaving $220.00 as the net return.

Thus it is seen that when the crop is put in the silo it is worth just $280 more than when it is harvested and pastured.

You can build a permanent 100-ton silo for $600 or less. If you had to borrow the money to build it the interest on your loan at 6 per cent would be $36, which subtracted from $280 leaves $244 as representing the net increase in feeding values of the ensiled crop.

$244 is more than 40 per cent return on your investment in a silo.
Will your banker give you that much for the use of your money or can you buy any reliable stocks and bonds and expect such dividends?

The answer is, "BUILD A SILO."

We, however, are of the opinion that civilization is not on the decline.
It has hit the bottom kerplunk.

Cafeterias Will Open For Thousands of Hogs

During the coming month thousands of Kentucky hogs that are to be fattened for fall markets will be turned into fields of corn and soybeans grown together to "serve themselves" for the growing crops. Hogging off, as this process is commonly known among farmers, has become so popular as an economical method of producing pork in the state that three times as much corn and soybeans will be hogged down this year as the case last year, according to Ralph Kenney, crops extension specialist of the College of Agriculture.
The majority of farmers who obtained the top price for the fat hogs last year started the hogging off process on their farms about August 15th, he said.

Several distinct advantages are pointed out for this method of pork production. It is more economical in that it involves less labor in feeding and harvesting and in addition it results in the greatest returns from manure and crop residues. The hogs also are kept in a more healthy environment while ranging through the field and therefore can be expected to make more rapid gains. Statistics compiled during the last 25 years show that hogs fattened in this way also usually reach the market stage ahead of the drop in hog prices which generally comes in October.

Many farmers get their hogs on an early market by hogging off corn alone. High prices for farm labor have resulted in this method becoming a common practice in view of the fact that the man with feeder hogs cannot afford to shuck corn. Soybeans and corn grown in the same row are considered a better hoggingoff feed than corn alone since the protein content of the beans balances the fat producing elements of the corn. This combination is said to produce from 150 to 200 pounds of pork more an acre than is produced by corn alone with a cost of only 25 cents more an acre for bean seed while the yield of corn is reduced only about three bushels an acre. A few farmers provide a balanced ration for their fattening hogs by turning them on corn and feeding tankage in a self feeder. Soybeans and corn in the same row are ready for hogging off when the beans enter the "dough" stage and the corn is arden-

First Fall Pigs To Be Here Soon

Early arrivals in Kentucky's annual fall pig crop of about 300,000 animals will be here within the next few weeks, animal husbandry specialists at the College of Agriculture say. The fall farrowing season will continue until about the first of December with the bulk of the young porkers arriving during September and October.

"Overfeeding the brood sow is one of the important points that farmers have to guard against at this time of the year," E. J. Wilford, one of the specialists pointed out. "Thousands of newly born pigs are thrown off feed because their mothers received an excess of feed which in turn produced a flow of milk that was too abundant for the young animals. To overcome this condition, feeders on the college farm practice a system of limited feeding for some time after farrowing. All feed is withheld from the sow on the day she farrows and nothing but water allowed her. For the next two or three days she is given a light allowance of shipstuff or middlings in the form of a thin slop. On the fifth day after farrowing, corn meal is introduced into the ration which then consists of about one pound of corn meal, four pounds of ship stuff and one-fifth of a pound of tankage. These feeds are gradually increased until at the end of ten days, the ration being fed is made up of three pounds of shipstuff, three pounds of corn meal and a half pound of tankage.

"At the end of 30 days, the feed is composed of seven pounds of corn meal, five pounds of shipstuff or middlings and one pound of tankage.
This is considered full feed while the amount which is fed to the sow is determined by her size, the number of pigs she is suckling and her ability to produce milk. Generally, when a sow is on full feed she should be receiving an average of about four per cent of her live weight in grain each day. This is to add a limited amount of this to the ration. Some sows have demonstrated that they are capable of producing little milk and begin to fatten as soon as the feed is increased. In cases of this kind it is necessary to reduce the amount of feed which is given to the sow each day."

Regardless of all arguments to the contrary, we are convinced that doctors are typically human. We can prove it by the docs themselves.

Cows Require Grain As Pasture Shrink

A cow that weighs 1,000 pounds and produce three gallons of milk a day must have at least 100 pounds of grass each day, according to J. J.
Hooper, head of the dairy department of the College of Agriculture. In view of the fact that many pastures do not furnish this much grass during the summer, some form of grain feed is necessary if the milk production of dairy cows is to be kept up.

Farmers and dairymen are apt to overlook these facts in assuming that milk producing cows can obtain enough grass to sustain them. Hot weather and flies at this time of the year in addition to the short pastures make it doubly important that the cow should be given the necessary grain feed. A fall in milk flow at this time will be hard to bring up later in the season, it was pointed out.

"A good grain mixture consists of four pounds of corn meal, two pounds of wheat bran or shipstuff and two pounds of cottonseed meal.

Enough of this mixture should be fed to keep the cows in good condition.
On the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station farm, one pound of grain mixture is fed for each three and one-half pounds of milk that the cow is giving. Hay and silage are not fed as grass is counted upon to take their place. A field of Sudan grass can fill an important place in the feeding of the dairy cow at this time of the year as the crop can be cut and hauled to the cows to supplement the short pastures. If Sudan grass is not available, green corn can be cut and fed at a profit to supplement a failing grass supply."

It was pointed out that supplement grain feeds and forage crops can be used profitably only by dairymen who have a market for whole milk at a good price. Butterfat or milk for cheese factories does not pay enough profits to justify the farmer in feeding grain to his cows, it was said.

Pipe Arch Bridge.

An engineering curiosity, said to be unique to this country and to have only one parallel in Europe, is the pipe arch bridge over the Sudburs river which carries Boston's water supply. The span is eighty feet, and the steel pipe, seven and one-half feet in diameter, rises five and one-half feet above the horizontal at the center. The pressure on the abutments when the pipe is filled with water is great and is resisted by a mass of concrete forty feet thick behind each abutment. Across the curved top runs a hand-railed foot bridge. The steel of the pipe in the arched portion is five-eighths of an inch in thickness.

That the purchaser of this franchise or privilege, or any successor, or assignee of such purchaser, shall repair and make good all damages to the streets, public property and public places in said city occasioned by the location, construction, operation or maintenance of the lighting and power equipment, and all of said equipment used along, on, or under the public streets, public places and public property shall be erected, maintained and constructed in the usual neat, safe, substantial, and workmanlike manner. The materials, location and construction of all poles, conduits, wires and other fixtures and appliances instant to the construction and operation of either over-head or under-ground system shall be according to the best engineering practices and subject to the inspection, approval and control of the City. Any repairs on the streets, public ways or side-walks of the City rendered necessary by the erection or maintenance of poles or caused by the erection or maintenance of said plant shall be done by and at the expense of the purchaser. All the wires upon poles shall be not less than twenty-two feet above the ground or street and shall be placed at a greater or less height above the ground or street and when and wherever so directed by the City, or its authorized agent. All poles shall be straight and uniform, strong and substantial, and not less than seven inches at the smallest end.

All wires carrying electric current shall be so maintained at all times as not to endanger life, and all wires, conductors and appliances for the transmission of electric current shall be thoroughly insulated and shielded, and when the said insulation or covering on said wires becomes too thin or injured by age, or otherwise, as not to be safe, said wires shall be replaced by other wires, which meet the requirements of the best engineering requirements.

It is understood that the purchaser will be required to use the alley ways as much as practical for setting poles and carrying wires, and no poles are to cross the public square of said city, and all posts, poles, guy wires, and the current carrying wires and cables in the entire system are to be so constructed and maintained as not to interfere with the use of public ways by the public, or to obstruct the flow of water in any gutter or drain, and the entire system shall be kept at all times in good order and condition, so as not to endanger life and to give good and efficient service, and said purchaser, or any successor or assignee of such shall save the City of Lancaster harmless from all loss or damage which may be done to its public ways or other property, or to the person or property of individuals in locating, constructing, maintaining and operating the plant or equipment under this franchise or privilege and to assume the payment of and to pay all the judgments rendered against the said City or against the purchaser owing to or caused by an act of negligence on the part of said purchaser, or any of its employees, agents or servants, in the erection of or maintenance of said electric lighting system in the said City, or in the operation of said electric lighting system during the life of this grant.

SECTION No. 3.

The purchaser of this franchise shall furnish and maintain during the entire term of this franchise, an electric plant or power system which shall be of at least 150 kilowatt capacity and shall be equipped with two or more dynamos, which shall be directly connected neither of which shall have a capacity, less than 60 kilowatt, and be also provided and equipped with two or more engines and boilers, each to have a capacity to operate the respective dynamos, and all engines, dynamos, and other electrical machinery and appliances shall be of good construction and of such design as to insure satisfactory and the best service, and the City to have the right to have the plant and system inspected, at any time, to ascertain if the above provisions are being complied with.

SECTION No. 4.

The minimum charge for power $1.50 per month per meter, and $1.00 for each horse power or fraction thereof connected. It is to be the duty of the purchaser of this franchise to render bill for light and power to all their customers monthly and not later than the 3rd of the succeeding month. The rates and charges to the City shall not be in excess of the following: The rate for pumping the City water $150.00 per month. For street and alley lights $1.50 per month per light. The lights used on the public square in said City to be 100 candle power and the lights used on the streets and alleys to be 80 candle power and maintained so as to give the maximum candle power as rated on the lamps made by standard manufacturers.

The purchaser shall keep in repair and furnish the said street lights and replace the lamps with new lamps whenever any of same fail to furnish good light of normal standard power, all of which is to be done at purchaser's expense, and purchaser to furnish as few or as many lights at the same rate as the City may desire. The above rates shall be in effect during the entire term of this franchise but they may be, at the end of two years, from the date that this franchise goes into effect be either lowered or raised by the City, through its board of Council, in the following manner—said City Council may adopt a resolution citing said purchaser to appear before it, to show why said rates all or any of same should not be lowered, or said purchaser may file with the City Council a petition for a revision of all or any of said rates and charges.

In either event a schedule of rates and charges which shall be fair and reasonable under the conditions and circumstances as they may then exist, shall be adopted by the City Council and become the legal rates to be charged by said purchaser. Whenever a revision or change of rates and charges is adopted by the Council, as above provided they shall be in effect for at least two years from the time they become effective.

The purchaser is to allow a representative of the City, to be named by the Council, free access, at any time, to their plant and books and accounts for inspection, to ascertain if said rates and charges are reasonable and fair.

The service to be furnished at said rates or prices for street and alley lighting shall be that each and all lamps be kept burning all night during each and all nights of the year from early twilight to day light. The service to the inhabitants of the City shall be continuous, that is 24 hours service, during the entire term of this franchise.

For failure to furnish lights or the amount of lights that may be contracted for by the said City, at any time, a deduction shall be made in the price to be paid equal to twice the amount agreed to be paid for each lamp so failing to furnish light to the required standard during the time of such failure; but when such failure may be caused by strikes, fire or other calamity not possible to be avoided, the only deduction that shall be made, shall be the proportional part of the contract price for the time of failure.

The purchaser is to furnish and maintain at his expense, meters of standard make to all consumers of light and power. The purchaser shall, at his expense, furnish the necessary wiring for connecting with the street service line to the consumer's residence and place of business, provided the residence and place of business is not more than 50 yards from the street service line; the consumer to pay for wires and poles for all distances in excess of the said 50 yards, and all consumers to pay for all inside wiring.

SECTION No. 5.

If the two cannot agree as to the third appraiser then the judge of the 13th Judicial District of Kentucky shall name the third appraiser.

SECTION No. 6.

That this franchise or privilege is created, granted and shall continue for a period of 10 years from and after the date it is made effective by the passage and publication of this ordinance. This franchise shall not be exclusive, but said City shall have the right to dispose of and grant other franchises for the same purpose whenever desired.

SECTION No. 7.

That the purchaser of this franchise, or any assignee of the purchaser, shall within 12 months after the date of the ratification and approval of the sale and acceptance of the bid by the City of Lancaster, Ky., have an electric plant, pole lines and equipment of sufficient size, amount and capacity to adequately supply with electricity the needs and requirements of the city and its inhabitants; and unless this provision is complied with, the franchise or privilege herein granted and provided for shall at the expiration of said 12 months become and be forfeited, null and void. All of the provisions of this franchise shall apply to any successor or assigns of the purchaser of said franchise.

SECTION No. 8.

The purchaser shall execute bond with good surety to the city in the sum of $5,000.00 for the benefit of whom it may concern that each, every and all of the provisions, terms and conditions of the franchise shall be kept and performed in good faith and said bond shall be kept in force and continuance during the life of the franchise granted and shall be for the protection of said City and for the protection and benefit of the citizens of said City, who may be users of electricity for the fulfillment of the conditions set out in this ordinance and the failure to keep said bond in force as required herein, at any time, shall be the cause for an annulling and forfeiting of any franchise and rights granted at the option of the City and the City may require a renewal of said bond from time to time if deemed insufficient.

Announcement

We are authorized to announce Hon. Ralph Gilbert a candidate to succeed himself in Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August 5, 1922.

Take It Seriously

Don't ignore the great calamity cloud that is hovering over Europe. It is a serious menace, and only a miracle can prevent the impending crash.

When a great structure is about to collapse people do not command it to stand by word of mouth. They bolster it up with the best means at hand until permanent repairs can be made.

Europe is in the position of the crumbling building. It is about to collapse for lack of adequate support.

The great need of the old world is temporary relief. Without it the governments and people cannot reach the point of permanent improvement.

The international bankers of the world have laid down the terms upon which they will furnish the finances necessary for this relief—for readjustment and reconstruction.

The governments, with one exception, have indicated their willingness to accept these terms.

France alone remains obdurate—insanely blind and stubborn—and without France co-operation nothing can be attained.

The French are holding a two edged sword over the tiny cord that binds the future peace of the world.

Will they lower it in honor, or will greed, vindictiveness and stubbornness prevail?

The shadows of life are never so thick but what the sun is trying to break through. Help it along.

Get Together

This is no time for internal strife among the American people. It is the time to pull hard, and all together.

While we are a self sustaining nation in every sense of the word, our prosperity yet depends to a considerable extent upon conditions that exist in the rest of the world. We have a large foreign trade—or did have—and when other countries are financially down and out our markets are limited to just that extent.

No one can tell when Europe will be on its feet, or whether it will ever be so again.

With such conditions prevailing, it becomes more and more imperative that the people of the United States cultivate a closer spirit of cohesion and unity of purpose, with the welfare of our country as their ultimate goal.

Only such governments as are strong in right and might will prevail. Others will fall by the wayside, never to rise again in like form.

Lay aside petty disputes. A country prospers only as its people work in amity to a correct and given purpose.

America must forge ahead.

BURLEY GROWERS WILL ADVERTISE THEIR PRODUCT

Co-operative Association Plans To Make Public Acquainted With Merits of Tobacco

Annual Election of Delegates Set For September 16th.

Directors of the Burley Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association, at their regular August meeting in Lexington, Thursday, August 3rd., decided to adopt a policy of national advertising in order to popularize Burley Tobacco, redistricted the territory in which Burley Tobacco has been signed up to the Association's co-operative marketing plan and set the dates for the annual elections, candidates for delegates to be nominated at mass meetings at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of September 2, the delegates to be elected by ballot at election to be held in the court houses of the various counties September 16, between the hours of 8 A. M. and 4 P. M. and the delegates to meet Monday, September 18, in that county in each district which delivered the largest amount of the 1291 tobacco crop to the Association on Monday, Sept. 18th, as provided by the by-laws, to select a director for each of these districts.

The matter of national advertising has been under consideration for some time by the executive committee. The directors voted unanimously that it was the sense of the board that the advertising be done and the details were left to President James C. Stone and the executive committee, after thorough discussion. The advertising campaign will be prepared by an internationally known expert and will have for its purpose making the American public acquainted with the merits of Burley tobacco, as one liberal buyer from the Association is now doing in its national advertising of a certain brand of tobacco.

In the selection of delegates to the district conventions each county is to be represented, though those which produced less than a million pounds will be allowed such fraction of a vote as the production in those counties bears to a million pounds of tobacco, the unit of delegate representation. Twice as many candidates are to be nominated in each county as that county may be entitled to under the call for the election and sufficient blank spaces left on each ballot for each voter to express his preference for delegates in the event he may not desire to vote for those who may be nominated at the meetings September 2nd.

The mass meetings are to be called to order in each of the counties by some grower designated by the president of the Association and the meetings will elect their own chairmen and secretaries and will also select three officers of election, who will hold the election Sept. 16th., and certify the result to Secretary H. Lee Earley. The election will be by ballot and only the official ballot of the Association may be used, but it must be signed and can be sent by mail or voted personally or sent in by another person to be voted. Ballots sent in by mail or through some other person than the voter must reach the election officers during the hours of elections, 8 to 4 o'clock Sept. 16th., or previous to that time.

The election is to be advertised in at least two issues of the newspapers of the Burley district previous to September 2nd. and the ballots are to be preserved ten days, any contest to be settled by the board of directors at the first meeting following the election.

Judge I. H. Thurman, of Springfield, presented the report of the committee on elections and Vice President Bush W. Allen read the report of the re-districting committees. Under the new re-districting the districts are as follows.

District No. 1—Fayette county.
District No. 2—Bourbon county.

Lime Tonic

Is Prescribed for Kentucky's Sick Soils

Nearly all of the upland soils in Kentucky that are not of limestone origin and a large area of the state's limestone soils, including some of those in the blue grass region, are acid to an injurious extent and need limestone before they can be expected to produce the greatest crop yields, soil authorities who have investigated the problem say. Applying lime at this time of the year to correct this condition has a number of distinct advantages that are not possible at other times, according to George Roberts, head of the agronomy department of the college of Agriculture.

"The preparation of wheat land at this time of the year offers one of the best opportunities for applying limestone since quick returns can be obtained from its use. If used with phosphate, the material will return added yields and increased profits on the wheat crop and give still greater returns on the clover crop which usually follows the wheat. The good condition of roads at this time of the year and the fact that more time usually is available on the average farm are added advantages in using lime now. Another important point is the fact that the demand usually is slack at this time of the year, making it easier to obtain the material.

"As an average for eight years on four of the soil experiment fields being maintained over the state by the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, limestone and acid phosphate have given an increase of 9.6 bushels an acre a year in the wheat crop. This was more than enough to pay for the application of limestone which will last for at least three more crops in the rotation. On the same fields, the increase in the clover hay crop from limestone, in addition to that from acid phosphate, has been approximately 1,500 pounds an acre. Limestone and phosphate have produced an increase of clover hay totaling more than a ton an acre a year on the same fields as an average for eight years. During the season just passed, the corn yield on the Berea experiment field has been increased 26 bushels an acre by the use of limestone and acid phosphate."

First it was secret diplomacy, and then we had shirt sleeve diplomacy, and now that the women are breaking in we presume it will be of the bloomer variety.

ROADS STAND BY LOYAL EMPLOYEES

Tell President Harding Old and New Men Must Be Protected in Strike Settlement.

NOT A MATTER OF CHOICE

Faithful Employees Have Both Legal and Moral Rights to Seniority and Other Benefits.

New York.—The keynote of the reply made by railway executives representing more than 180 Class I Railroads of the United States to the proposition of President Harding, that "all strikers be returned to their work and their former positions with seniority and other rights unimpaired," lies in the last paragraph from their reply to the President as follows:

"It is submitted that the striking former employees cannot be given preference to employees at present in the service without doing violence to every principle of right and justice involved in this matter, and without the grossest breach of faith on the part of the railroads to the men at present in their service."

"Under these circumstances, it becomes apparent that the railroads cannot consider any settlement of the present strike which does not provide protection in their present employment both to the loyal employees who remained in the service and to the new employees entering it."

The executives had accepted the first two conditions proposed by the President, namely, that both employers and employees accept the decisions of the Labor Board, and that all law suits growing out of the strike be withdrawn; and in relation to the third condition spoke not only as quoted above, but also as follows:

Agree With the President

"The railroad executives and managers agree entirely with the President's statement in his letter that 'it is wholly unthinkable that the Railroad Labor Board can be made a useful agency of the Government in maintaining industrial peace in the railway service unless employers and workers are both prompt and unquestioning in their acceptance of its decisions.'"

"Many men in the service refused to join the strike and in so doing were assured of the seniority rights accruing to them and of the permanence of their positions. On some important lines 50 per cent or more refused to join the strike. To these old loyal employees have been added thousands of new men who were employed and could be secured only upon a definite promise that their services would be retained regardless of the settlement of the strike, with all the rights appertaining to such employment, including that of seniority under the working rules and regulations previously approved by the Railroad Labor Board."

"Just the Opposite Effect"

"We especially point out that a refusal to the old men who remained in the service and to the new men who accepted service of the rights of seniority incident to their employment would have just the opposite effect to that desired by the President, and would most seriously discredit the Labor Board."

"The board itself prescribed the rules of seniority under which the men referred to have secured their seniority rights, and the railroad companies have neither the legal nor moral right to deprive these men of those rights. By public utterances since the strike began the board has recognized and emphasized these rights, and to deny them now would, instead of upholding the authority of the Labor Board, overthrow its rules and discredit its authority."

"The Chairman of the Labor Board at the time the strike was called made the following public statement:

"Upon one question the striking employees should not be deceived. Their leader has said that the strikers are no longer employees of the railroads, and they have thus automatically abandoned all the rights they possess under their agreements and under the decisions of the board, including their seniority. This is not the board's action. It is their own."

"Many carriers are giving their former employees the opportunity to re-enter the service within a limited time. It must be understood now that men who remained in the service and those who are now entering it will have rights of seniority that the board could not ignore."

What the Proposed Plan Means

"It must be understood that any proposal that employees now on strike shall be permitted to return to the service, without impairment to their seniority, is merely another way of suggesting that those men who took employment in this crisis in good faith, relying on the promises of the railroads to protect them in their positions, these promises being justified by the authoritative utterances of the Labor Board, and thus have made possible the continued operation of the railroads, shall now be sacrificed in favor of men now on strike, who not only brought about the crisis, but, by their own action and declaration, are no longer employees of the railways, under the jurisdiction of the United States Railroad Labor Board, or subject to the application of the Transportation act."

"In addition to the necessity of upholding the Labor Board, and maintaining the pledges made by the railroads to the men now at work, there is the practical effect on the supervisory officers of a violation of the pledges they were authorized to make. Their discouragement and demoralization would be far more disastrous than this or any other strike."

Farm and Home News From Over Kentucky

Farm boys and girls of Campbell county who are members of the various junior agricultural clubs in that county have been showing lively enthusiasm in the picnics and tours which they have arranged during the summer with the help of County Agent H. F. Link. Two clubs raised enough funds to hire trucks for a trip to interesting points in Cincinnati and vicinity while another group of the youngsters visited the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station and prominent farms in the blue grass district.

More than 120 Whitley county farmers and poultry keepers recently were taught the method of distinguishing between the laying and loafing hens in their flocks by means of a number of poultry culling demonstrations held by County Agent E. F. Davis and the College of Agriculture extension division. A total of 108 hens out of the 288 that were handled showed the characteristic signs that they had stopped laying.

Christian county farmers and their wives who attended the recent all-day poultry school and picnic held at Hopkinsville obtained many new pointers on poultry management and care, County Agent H. G. Cress says. J. H. Martin, in charge of poultry work at the College of Agriculture at Lexington; A. J. Culver, who is said to have one of the largest poultry flocks in the state, together with a number of Christian county poultrymen took part in the program.

As a result of six Oldham county farmers growing barley during the last year, indications are that the acreage of this crop seeded in that county this fall will be ten times as great as that sown last year, County Agent Gordon B. Nance says. Farmers who usually sell wheat and buy corn will replace the wheat with barley.

McROBERTS DRUG STORE

A Silo is a Great Big Bank

Every farmer in Kentucky who owns a silo can consider himself the President and Board of Directors of a first class bank.

A bank is an institution for the secure storage of valuables, silage is valuable. A bank is a source of help in financial stress—so is a silo when feed is scarce. A bank not only keeps its patrons funds safely but returns them with interest; so does a silo return interest but at a rate, far above that of the bank. As an investment the bank returns profits on the money put into it; as a sole stockholder in the silo the farmer will find it one of the best investments he ever made.

Kentucky is gaining steadily in dairying. The most reliable authorities state that there are 14,000 silos in the state, each with an average capacity of 100 tons. Assuming $5 per ton as the feed value of silage, the deposits in these rural banks of the state amount to about $7,000,000. The State amount to about $7,000,000. There is room for at least four times as many more silos as the state possesses now. If Kentucky had 50,000 silos the resources of its farmers as represented by deposits in silo banks would be increased to $25,000,000. Here is one of the rocks on which must be built Kentucky's future success in dairying.

A silo is an indication of good farming ability. The best farmers in every locality are likely to have the best land, the best cows and the best farm plan. An Illinois survey showed that the labor income on farms with silos was $373 more than on farms without silos. Perhaps the silo sower not responsible for it all, but figures talk.

Kentucky farmers are among the most progressive in the country and when both their pride and their pocket book are concerned no one can get ahead of them. Adding $20,000,000 to the deposit in the "farmers' banks" is not too much of a job. A good start can be made on it this year.

Put money into the bank by banking your corn crop in silos.

One-third of Hens

Found to be Culls

Results already obtained in the poultry culling demonstrations being conducted over the state by the extension division of the College of Agriculture indicate that the annual quota of one-third of the hens in Kentucky will stop laying within the next month and loaf until spring, according to H. R. Jackson, one of the college poultrymen. The demonstrations, which are being held to show farmers and poultrymen how to distinguish between laying and loafing hens, also show that the percentage of culls in flocks that have been fed and managed according to recommended methods during the summer is smaller than in flocks where little attention was paid to the feeding and care of the birds, Mr. Jackson added.

He has conducted demonstrations on a total of 24 flocks up to the present time and handled 1,417 birds, 28 per cent of which, or 411, showed the characteristic signs that they had stopped laying. The percentage of loafers in some flocks was as high as 58 per cent while in other flocks that had been well cared for the percentage of culls was found to be as low as eight per cent. Thirty-five birds in one poorly managed flock of 60 hens had stopped laying while only three in another flock of 35 hens that had been well fed proved to be non-layers.

"One poultryman whose flock was culled in the demonstrations found that keeping sour skim milk before the birds at all times and feeding them a grain feed of equal parts of corn and oats at night, was a good method of keeping up the egg production of his hens," Mr. Jackson said. "Another was obtaining good results by making a mash of ground oats and bran that was moistened with sour skim milk and fed during the day. He also gave them sour skim milk to drink. On the college farm good results in egg production are obtained by keeping sour skim milk or buttermilk before the birds at all times and giving them a grain feed composed of seven parts of whole corn and three parts of oats. The hens are forced to drink the milk at the rate of one gallon a day for every 30 hens."

Spraying Boosts Yield of Late Crop Potatoes

Farmers and gardeners who are growing late potatoes will profit by being on guard for insect pests at this time of the year, according to A. J. Olney, potato specialist at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station. Plant lice were highly destructive to first-crop potatoes in the state this year while leaf hoppers, another common insect pest of the crop, have been more abundant during the last two or three years than ever before, he said. In tests during recent years on the station farm, sprayed potatoes have yielded as much as one-third more than those that were left unsprayed, it was pointed out.

"As soon as the plants are six inches high, they should be sprayed with a combination spray made by mixing standard Bordeaux mixture and arsenate of lead at the rate of three pounds of lead powder for each 50 gallons of Bordeaux. This spray will control Colorado potato beetles, the ordinary flea beetles and nearly blight. It may be necessary to repeat the application of this spray as many as from four to six times at intervals of ten days to two weeks. If plant lice or leaf hoppers appear on the plants, it will be necessary to add nicotine sulphate to the spray, this material being added at the rate of a half pint to 50 gallons of Bordeaux.

"Special care is necessary if the spraying is to accomplish the desired results. Plant lice must be hit by this spray in order to be killed while the control of leaf hoppers depends upon spraying them while they are young."

The stub in his check book shows to whom he paid his money, and he may make it show exactly for what each sum was paid.

In other words the check-book stub is a simplified form of keeping books that is valuable to any man, and especially to the working man or farmer who possibly keeps no other form of books showing his receipts and expenditures.

The man who pays cash as he goes frequently wonders what becomes of his money. Not so with the man who pays with checks on his bank account.

Home Loose Leaf Tobacco W'h'se Co.

Incorporated

RICHMOND, KY., AUGUST 7th., 1922.

TO THE INDEPENDENT TOBACCO GROWER:—

The sale of the 1922 crop of tobacco is drawing near and it is our pleasure again to be able to sell the tobacco for the independent growers as we promised last season, and as advertised we will be open to receive your tobacco the first of December with our Opening sale on December 4th, 1922.

We believe that you know that the Pool Association has not sold all of their last season's tobacco, also that they borrowed money on their unsold tobacco to make their members a second payment and up to the present time the third payment is unpaid. Do you also know that the present indications are that this year's yield will be twice as large as last in pounds and with what the Pool now has on hand, what is to become of all this year's production. You also know that the Association has a paid man to stay in this county soliciting new contracts. Why do they seek new contracts in Madison county when they claimed 75 per cent of the pounds last season, and 90 per cent now. Whose money pays all of these solicitors? It is rumored that these solicitors are telling you independent growers who do not care to join that you will have no place to sell your tobacco this year. We want to state again that the Home House will positively be opened to sell this year's crop for those who do not join the Pool, no matter how small your load. We pay you cash the day it is sold, putting money in your pockets to finance you in your future crops instead of having to wait several months with only a hope of getting a portion.

We want to thank all of you who sold with us last year and take this means of soliciting your crops the coming season. Already we have practically 50 per cent more pounds promised us for sale the coming season than last and as heretofore, we will have competent men to handle your crops seeing to it that every pound brings the highest dollar. Pay no attention to the propaganda that we will not be open, but on the contrary go ahead with your housing and be ready with a load for us on the big Opening Sale December 4th.

Trusting that you will have a good crop and that we will be able to secure for you even better price, we remain,

Your friends,

HOME TOBACCO WAREHOUSE CO.

INCORPORATED

PS. Last reports from the Southern markets are that the Independent tobacco is bringing from 20 to 65 cents per pound. Sounds good to us.
